Answer

Section 17(5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Police Service of Northern Ireland (PSNI), when refusing to provide such information (because the cost of compliance exceeds the appropriate limit) to provide you the applicant with a notice which states that fact.

It is estimated that the cost of complying with your request for information would exceed the “appropriate costs limit” under Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, which is currently set by the Secretary of State at £450. If this cost applies to one or more questions, then it applies to the entire request.

In relation to cameras cost, such costs would include the petrol for vehicles, maintaining the camera’s, maintenance costs, purchase etc and will be embedded into many different budgets and therefore it would be over the fees to extract.

In accordance with the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter should be considered as a Refusal Notice, and the request has therefore been closed.

You may wish to submit a refined request in order that the cost of complying with your request may be facilitated within the ‘appropriate limit’. In compliance with Section 16 of the Act, I have considered how your request may be refined to bring it under the appropriate limit.

Submission of a refined request would be treated as a new request, and considered in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act 2000. However, please bear in mind that PSNI have a duty to counter terrorism and investigate serious crime, therefore it is likely that some of the exemptions which prevent disclosure under FOIA will be engaged. PSNI must ensure that they are able to fairly balance transparency and accountability against their responsibility in also protecting local communities through professional and progressive policing.

Section 16 – Duty to provide advice and assistance

In compliance with Section 16 of the Act, I have considered how your request may be refined to bring it under the appropriate limit.

In relation to question 10 “...How much will the total installation cost..” Although PSNI would hold information regarding cost, these records cover many various aspects as mentioned previously and would be embedded in different budgets and systems.

Therefore, due to the nature and structure of the information requested this would make it extremely difficult for the PSNI to advise you how to refine your request to a point below the £450 cost limit.

Although excess cost removes the service’s obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill, I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this will be helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request.

Q3 Who are they being installed for?

Answer 3

The cameras are designed to promote and protect the safety of everyone in the community. Police will use the cameras to discharge their obligations under the Police (NI) Act 2000, which states:

“It shall be the general duty of police officers –

- (a) to protect life and property;
- (b) to preserve order;
- (c) to prevent the commission of offences;
- (d) where an offence has been committed, to take measures to bring the offender to justice.”

This would also include to proactively ensure road safety.

Q4 What do these cameras detect?

Answer 4

The cameras will make a valuable contribution in four key areas:

- Enforcing the law
- Promoting road safety
- Investigating accidents
- Patrolling roads

They will also contribute to PSNI's aims in reducing road user related crime and providing a safer environment for all communities.

Q5 What information is collected by these cameras?

Answer 5

Vehicle Registration Numbers.

Q6 Who collects the information they collect?

Answer 6

Police Service Northern Ireland.
