Answer

The Freedom of Information Act 2000 legislates for the rights of an individual to seek access to recorded information held by a public authority. Section 84 of the Act only extends to requests for recorded information and does not require public authorities to answer questions, unless of course the answer is already held in recorded form.

Enquiries made in relation to your request failed to locate any records or documents relevant to your request based on the information you have provided. The record owner has confirmed that previously PSNI held records of this nature in relation to Casement Park however this is no longer the case. All documents are now held by the Department of Communities. I have determined that the Police Service of Northern Ireland does not hold the information to which you seek access.
