FREEDOM OF INFORMATION REQUEST

Request Number: F-2020-01944

Keyword: Crime

Subject: Street Bail And Subsequent PACE 10 Interview

Request and Answer:

Your request for information below has now been considered. In respect of Section 1(1)(a) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA) we can confirm that the Police Service of Northern Ireland does hold the information you have requested however it is estimated that the cost of complying with your request for information would exceed the “appropriate costs limit” under Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000. We have explained to you below that when PSNI estimates whether the appropriate limit is likely to be exceeded, it can include the costs of complying with two or more requests if certain conditions are met. In this case those conditions are met and complying with all of your requests would in our estimation exceed that appropriate limit set out in Regulation. We have explained this further below but also we followed the Information Commissioner’s Office guidance ‘Requests where the cost of compliance exceeds the appropriate limit’ in relation to this request, which also provides further detail on the application of section 12 (1) of the FOIA. This guidance is available on the ICO website at the following link:

You requested the following information from PSNI:

Request

How many people between 2018-2020 were granted street bail and contacted shortly after for a PACE10 interview, as opposed to being arrested, for the offences of common assault, AOABH and Disorderly Behaviour on licensed premises?

Answer

Section 17(5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the Police Service of Northern Ireland, when refusing to provide such information (because the cost of compliance exceeds the appropriate limit) to provide you the applicant with a notice which states that fact.

It is estimated that the cost of complying with your request for information would exceed the “appropriate costs limit” under Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000. Section 12 of FOIA allows a public authority to refuse to deal with a request where it estimates that it would exceed the appropriate limit to either comply with the request in its entirety or confirm or deny whether the requested information is held. The estimate must be reasonable in the circumstances of the case. The ‘appropriate limit’ is currently £600 for central government and £450 for all other public authorities including PSNI. The relevant Regulations which define the appropriate limit for section 12 purposes are The Freedom of Information and Data Protection (Appropriate Limit and Fees) Regulation 2004 SI 2004 No 3244. These are known as the 'Fees Regulations' for brevity.

Regulation 4(3) of the Fees Regulations states that a public authority can take into account the costs it reasonably expects to incur in carrying out the following permitted activities in complying with the request:

- (i) determining whether the information is held;
- (ii) locating the information, or a document containing it;
- (iii) retrieving the information, or a document containing it; and
- (iv) extracting the information from a document containing it.

Under those regulations PSNI can calculate the time spent on each of these permitted activities at £25 per hour (thus if the activity(s) takes more than 18 hours PSNI will be in excess of the 'appropriate limit').

When a public authority is estimating whether the appropriate limit is likely to be exceeded, it can include the costs of complying with two or more requests if the conditions laid out in Regulation 5 of the Fees Regulations can be satisfied. Those conditions require the requests to be:

- made by one person, or by different persons who appear to the public authority to be acting in concert or in pursuance of a campaign;
- made for the same or similar information; and
- received by the public authority within any period of 60 consecutive working days.

Regulation 5(2) of the Fees Regulations requires that the requests which are to be aggregated relate "to any extent" to the same or similar information. This is quite a wide test but public authorities should still ensure that the requests meet this requirement.

Enquiries made in relation to your request has identified that retrieval of information would exceed the 18 hour cost limit set by the Secretary Of State under the FOI Act. In regards to your request PSNI estimate it would exceed the appropriate limit to locate, retrieve and extract the information you seek. This is due to the fact PSNI does not hold records of voluntary interview attendance in one central location or electronic database which would make them easily searchable, nor are they held in a manner which would allow simple extraction of the information you request. Voluntary interviews can take place either inside or outside of police custody and can be recorded digitally or on paper in an officer's notebook. Whilst PSNI has commenced a piece of work aimed at improving the recording of the voluntary attendance processes we estimate that to retrieve the information you seek over the time period sought by you for custody records alone would require a trawl of over 6000 records held across 9 custody suites for the 12 months ending March 2019 alone. This would involve a review of each voluntary attendance record to identify if an individual was street bailed and then subsequently interviewed by means of a PACE 10 interview in relation to the offences you have outlined taking place in a licenced premises. As your request is for a time period covering over 30 months this would vastly exceed the 18 hour time period allowed for by FOI legislation.

In accordance with the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter should be considered as a Refusal Notice, and the request has therefore been closed.

Advice and Assistance

In compliance with Section 16 of the Act, we have considered how your request may be refined to bring it under the appropriate limit and unfortunately due to the PSNI's recording system even if your request was limited to a shorter time period on this occasion we are unable to provide refinement for your request.
