Only one paramilitary style shooting was attributed to Republicans in 2024/25, which was the lowest number by Republicans since 1995/96 when there were none. This was also the first year since records commenced at local policing level in 1984/85 that there were no paramilitary style shootings in Belfast.
- there were 24 casualties of paramilitary style assaults, one fewer than during the previous year (25). The majority of paramilitary style assaults (18) were attributed to Loyalists.

Coverage

Police Recorded Statistics on the Security Situation for Northern Ireland are collated and produced by statisticians seconded to the Police Service of Northern Ireland (PSNI) from the Northern Ireland Statistics and Research Agency (NISRA).

Police recorded statistics relating to the security situation in Northern Ireland are the main source of official information on trends and statistics relating to the security situation throughout the Troubles and up to the present day. The PSNI produces statistics on incidents relating to the security situation that are reported to the police, including security related deaths, shooting and bombing incidents, paramilitary style attacks and arrests under Section 41 of the Terrorism Act 2000.

This annual bulletin presents finalised security situation statistics for the period 1 April 2024 to 31 March 2025. An accompanying spreadsheet is available on our website which outlines the data in this bulletin and historic trends. Further information on how these statistics are collated, reported and used is included in the Security Situation Statistics User Guide available on the PSNI website.

The security situation figures relate to those incidents that took place within Northern Ireland, they do not include any security related incidents that may have happened either in the Republic of Ireland or in Great Britain.

These statistics only include those incidents that are brought to the attention of the police and some such incidents may not have been reported. Therefore a level of under-reporting may exist and users of the statistics should exercise caution when examining trends based on these police statistics.

4. Commentary

4.1 Security Related Deaths

Security related deaths are those which are considered at the time of the incident to be directly attributed to terrorism, where the cause has a direct or proximate link to subversive / sectarian strife or where the death is attributable to security force activity.

- There were no security related deaths during 2024/25, compared to one during each of the previous three years. This was the first financial year since records began in 1969 that there were no security related deaths. The last such death occurred in Belfast in January 2024.
- The past 5 years have seen 6 security related deaths, approximately half the number that occurred during the previous 5 years (13), see Figure 7.

4.2 Shooting Incidents

These include any shooting incident relating to the security situation and include shots fired by terrorists, shots fired by the security forces, paramilitary style attacks involving shootings and shots heard (and later confirmed by other sources).

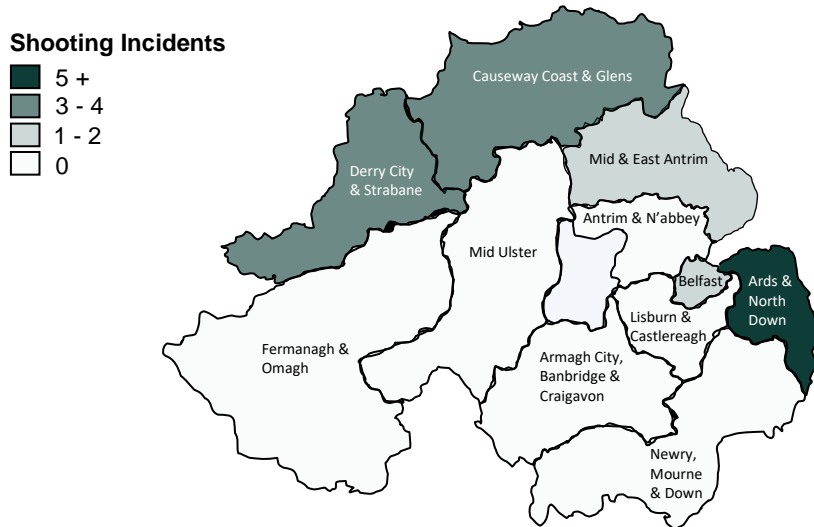

- There were 18 shooting incidents during 2024/25, 7 fewer than the previous year (25) and the lowest number of shootings since records began in 1969. See Figure 8 for a yearly breakdown over the last decade.
- The number of shooting incidents over the past 5 years (141) has decreased by more than a third (37%) compared to the number that occurred during the previous 5 years (225 incidents).

- Of the 18 shooting incidents during 2024/25, the greatest number occurred in Ards and North Down (7). There were 4 such attacks in each of the Districts Derry City and Strabane and Causeway Coast and Glens, 2 in Belfast and one in Mid and East Antrim.
- Belfast and Derry City and Strabane both saw fewer shootings incidents during 2024/25 than the previous year; the number in Belfast fell from 10 to 2 while in Derry City and Strabane the number fell from 9 to 4. Figure 9 shows the distribution of shooting incidents during the past year while Section 5 provides a breakdown by policing District compared to the previous year.

4.3 Bombing Incidents

These include all incidents where a bombing device explodes or is defused. If a device is found that is not complete or armed, then it is recorded as a 'find' and not as a bombing.

- There were 5 bombing incidents during 2024/25, two fewer than occurred during the previous year (7). The number of bombing incidents since 2021/22 have been notably lower than preceding years, see Figure 10. Only 1995/96 saw fewer bombing incidents than during each of the past 4 years, when there were none; see the accompanying spreadsheet here.
- The number of bombing incidents over the past 5 years (38) has decreased by almost three quarters (72%) compared to the number that occurred during the previous 5 years (135 incidents).

- Derry City and Strabane and Causeway Coast and Glens each experienced 2 bombing incidents during 2024/25, while Newry, Mourne and Down experienced one such incident. Belfast experienced no bombing incidents for the first time in 29 years.

4.4 Paramilitary Style Assaults

Paramilitary style assaults are usually carried out by Loyalist or Republican groups on members of their own community as a so-called punishment. The assault will involve major or minor physical injury to the injured party typically involving a group of assailants armed with, for example, iron bars or baseball bats. Paramilitary style assaults that result in death are counted as 'security related deaths' and are not reflected in the paramilitary style assault figures.

- There were 24 casualties of paramilitary style assaults during 2024/25, one fewer than during the previous year (25) and the lowest number recorded since 1983/84. There has been a year-on-year decline in the number of paramilitary style assaults since 2019/20.
- The number of assaults during the past 5 years (153) is approximately half the number that occurred during the previous 5 years (315 incidents), see Figure 12.

(1) Paramilitary style assaults that result in death are counted as security related deaths and are not included in the casualties of paramilitary style assaults figures. Attribution is as perceived by PSNI based on the information available at the time of incident.

- The majority of paramilitary style assaults were attributed to Loyalists. In 2024/25, 18 of the 24 assaults (75%) were attributed to Loyalists with the remaining attributed to Republicans.
- Of the 24 casualties of paramilitary style assaults during the past year, one was aged under 18 years old.
- The greatest number of assaults were carried out in Belfast (8 casualties), followed by Derry City and Strabane (4). There were paramilitary style assaults recorded in 5 other policing Districts during the same period, see Figure 13 and Section 5 for further detail.
- Compared to the previous year, the greatest increase in the number of assaults occurred in Causeway Coast and Glens (from none to 3), while the greatest decrease occurred in Mid and East Antrim (from 7 to 3).

4.5 Paramilitary Style Shootings

Paramilitary style shootings usually result in the injured party being shot in the knees, elbows, feet, ankles or thighs and the motive is supposedly to punish the person for anti-social activities. These paramilitary style shootings are generally conducted by Loyalist or Republican paramilitary groups on members of their own community. Paramilitary style shootings that result in death are counted as 'security related deaths' and are not reflected in the paramilitary style shooting figures.

- There were 8 casualties of paramilitary style shootings during 2024/25, 4 fewer than the previous year (12) and the lowest number since 2007/08, when there were 7 such shootings. There has been a general downward trend in the number of paramilitary style shootings since 2016/17.
- The number of casualties of paramilitary style shootings during the past 5 years (61) has fallen by just over a third (36%) compared to the number during the previous 5 years (96), see Figure 14.
- The majority of paramilitary style shootings were attributed to Loyalists in 2024/25. Of the 8 shootings, 7 were attributed to Loyalists and one was attributed to Republicans.

(1) Paramilitary style shootings that result in death are counted as security related deaths and are not included in the casualties of paramilitary style shooting figures. Attribution is as perceived by PSNI based on the information available at the time of incident.

- All of the 8 casualties of paramilitary style shootings during the past year were aged 18 years or older.

- Of the 8 paramilitary style shootings in the past year, 4 were carried out in Ards and North Down, 3 in Causeway Coast and Glens and one in Derry City and Strabane. There were 8 Districts in which no paramilitary style shootings occurred during 2024/25, one of which was Belfast. This is the first year since records commenced at local policing level in 1984/85 that there have been no paramilitary style shootings in Belfast.
- Figure 15 shows the distribution of paramilitary style shootings during 2024/25.

4.6 Finds of Firearms, Explosives and Ammunition

These refer to the seizure or recovery of all illegal firearms, ammunition, explosives, rocket/mortar launchers, detonators and bomb making material/equipment. Replica/blank firing firearms, petrol bombs and petrol bomb making materials, grenades and munitions from World War 1 or World War 2 found on the beach or in attics etc. are not recorded as finds.

- There were 6 firearms found during 2024/25, compared to 20 the previous year.
- There was 0.3kg of explosives found during 2024/25 compared to 3.4kg during the previous year and 129 rounds of ammunition found during 2024/25 compared to 851 during the previous year.

4.7 Section 41 Terrorism Act Arrests and Subsequent Charges

Section 41 of the Terrorism Act 2000 enables police officers to arrest persons whom they reasonably suspect to be a terrorist. Following arrest under Section 41 of the Terrorism Act an individual may be charged with any offence (e.g. attempted murder) and not necessarily an offence listed under the Terrorism Act. Figures in this publication include only those arrests that are linked to the security situation in Northern Ireland; persons who have been arrested under Section 41 of the Terrorism Act for other reasons are excluded.

- There were 52 persons arrested under Section 41 of the Terrorism Act 2000 during 2024/25 compared to 89 during the previous year. The past year saw the lowest number of such arrests since records began on 2001/02.
- The number of arrests under Section 41 of the Terrorism Act 2000 during the past 5 years (482) has fallen by 34% compared to the number during the previous 5 years (731).
- Of the 52 arrests, 21 (40%) of them occurred in Belfast and 14 (27%) occurred in Derry City and Strabane. A full District breakdown can be found in Section 5.
- There were 7 persons arrested under Section 41 of the Terrorism Act 2000 and subsequently charged (with any offence) during 2024/25, 17 fewer than the previous year (24) and the lowest number charged since records began in 2001/02.

6. Revisions

Revisions are carried out in accordance with our Revisions Policy, a copy of which is available in the Official Statistics section of the PSNI Statistics website. Figures within the current financial year to date are provisional and will be subject to slight revision until figures for the full financial year are published. This means that the totals for each month from April 2024 can change each time the figures are published during the financial year. These amendments can happen for a number of reasons, such as an incident being included or excluded following further investigation by an officer.

Since the publication of the previous bulletin up until 28 February 2025 no revisions have been made to the data.
